Connie and Puffy were friends and always played together. Puffy was a cute kitten who loved to play when she can. If Puffy could she would play for hours. Often she would get tired in an hour or less and have to take a nap.

Connie was given a red balloon from her mother. She was asked to go outside and play with Puffy in the backyard. The two went to the backyard as asked to play.

Connie and her friend Puffy went running through the backyard playing with the red balloon. All of a sudden the red balloon got away from Connie. The two of them ran after it trying to catch the red balloon.

Connie was almost about to catch the string attached to the red balloon. Puffy just then jumped up and caught the red balloon with her claws. This caused the red balloon to pop. The red balloon was no more.
