

Blowin' in the Wind

"Blowin' in the Wind" is a song written by Bob Dylan in 1962. Although it has been described as a protest song, it poses a series of rhetorical questions about peace, war and freedom. The refrain "The answer, my friend, is blowin' in the wind" has been described as "ambiguous: either the answer is so obvious it is right in your face, or the answer is as intangible as the wind". This is a story where you decided on the true meaning. Answer the questions listed below the best you are able to.

Question	What Inference	Clues / Evidence
Roads must a man walk down before they call him a man?
How many seas must a white dove sail before she sleeps in the sand?
How many times must the cannonballs fly before they're forever banned?
The answer, my friend is blowing in the wind.
How many years must a mountain exist before it is washed to the sea?
How many years can some people exist before they're allowed to be free?
How many times can a man turn his head and pretend that he just doesn't see?
How many times must a man look up before he can see the sky?
How many ears must one man have before he can hear people cry?
How many deaths will it take till he knows that Too many people have died?		