

Bob Dylan is one of the best known representatives of the protest song movement which started in the sixties among young people in the United States and Great Britain. The protest was directed against war and weapons in general and against the war in Vietnam and nuclear armament in particular. But the protest also included other aspects of society and was directed against what was called the establishment. The song we are going to listen is probably Bob Dylan's best known song. It has been translated into any languages and has thus become very popular all over the world.
